

Fellowship in Painting Conservation

The Chrysler Museum of Art in Norfolk, Virginia <URL:http://www.chrysler.org> is pleased to offer a nine month fellowship in the conservation of paintings.

The Fellowship will focus on the study, examination and treatment of paintings. The successful candidate will gain experience working on paintings in the museum's newly renovated conservation laboratory and will participate in all departmental activities including documentation, analysis and research on the Chrysler's extensive collection. They will actively be involved in a busy schedule of installations, changing exhibitions, assessments and loans as well as interacting with the public through gallery talks and demonstrations.

Fellowship will be available beginning fall 2008 and includes a $20,000 stipend. The deadline for applications is June 15, 2008.

Eligibility: Candidates will be considered who are currently enrolled in or have recently graduated from a recognized conservation training program, or who have similar training or experience.

Interested candidates should submit their curriculum vitae and two letters of recommendation from professional references along with a statement of the candidate's interest and intent in applying for the fellowship. Finalists will be asked to send examples from their portfolio of selected treatments, either printed or on CD. Send inquiries or application materials to:
